

DANIELLE McMANUS

SALE

Born in Sydney, Danielle McManus intertwines experience from everyday life with her Maltese heritage to produce superbly whimsical artworks & ceramics.

Whether fictional or based on real-life family events, Danielle's love of storytelling is evident in her colourful, figurative offerings that provide viewers with thought-provoking images, frequently set against a backdrop of a landscape fusing both her Maltese heritage and passion for Australia.

Influenced by the artwork of 17th Century European manuscripts as well as the work of other prominent artists such as Gustav Klimt, Frida Kahlo, Margret Woodward and Arthur Boyd, Danielle uses a rich colourful palette, expressing a deep love and kinship with the Australia landscape and its unique colours.

After completing a Bachelor of Arts (Visual Arts) at Newcastle University, Danielle worked as graphic designer in Sydney, during which time she began painting ceramics. After nine years she made the move to more peaceful surroundings in the Hunter Valley where she painted from her rural studio.

Creating a range of acrylics, charcoals, mixed media works and ceramic pieces, all in her own individual and colourful style, Danielle now works from her studio in Lorn, near Maitland.
