

AYJAY

Untitled. 2019

Art has been an ongoing practice throughout my entire life and has ultimately led to my full-time profession, to which I am deeply grateful for. Typically, my practice involves the creation of digital artwork that is then further expressed through aerosol in the form of murals and canvas artwork. Art is undoubtedly my strongest connection to the unspeakable realm. Where words defy me, my art will not.

My greatest inspiration comes from within, a knowing that my purpose as a visionary artist is to convey the spiritual pathway in as much accuracy and detail as I possibly can. In doing this, I give people that have seen a chance to once again view the familiar and offer a firsthand view to those that have not. External motivation comes from the greatest visionary artists of our time, people that continue to confront the psychedelic experience with great courage and express its true nature, one that has the best intentions for human kind.

Art is not what I do, it's what I am.
