BIOGRAPHY

Elizabeth Green is a Sydney based artist living in the bush surrounds of Kenthurst.

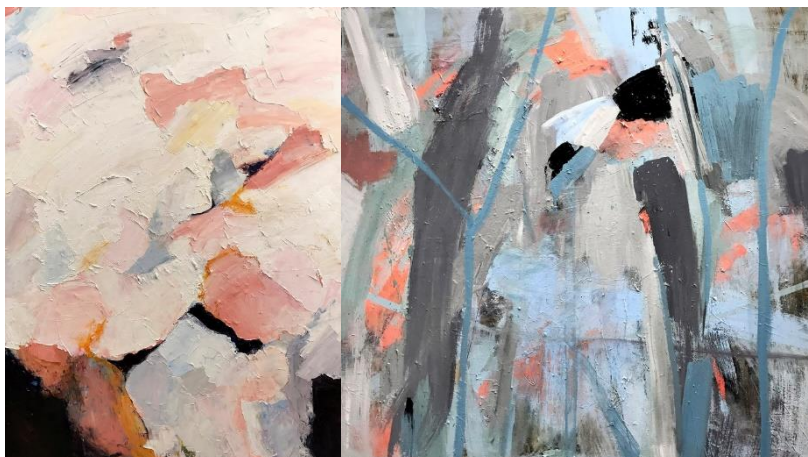

Intimate bushscapes and abstract impressionism reveal her interest in understanding the fragile connection between the delicate beauty of nature, and its existence within the harsh and rugged land. Much of her style is also inspired by her experience as a mother of four, as well as her trials and triumphs as a person living in a wheelchair.

Working in oils and in mixed media of charcoal and ink, the work captures a sense of place, revealing a mood and spirit of the world around her.

ARTIST STATEMENT

Using the natural world and the landscape as focus and inspiration, I am interested in the way the human species relates to the natural world and how our struggle for existence mirrors the fragility and tenacity of nature. Our unbreakable connection to nature exists, while we are at the same time determined to destroy it.

The use of the materials contributes to the work and I enjoy the unique properties they provide. The mediums of oil and ink have an intrinsic quality and create an emotional response. Through use of mark making, drama and a sense of immediacy creates energy in the work that reflects the world around us.
