

TOP ARTISTS SHOW OFF NEW WORKS

TRAFFIC Jam Galleries have opened a new exhibition called The Road Less Travelled.

The exhibition showcases new bodies of work by Julie Hutchings and Gemma Lynch-Memory, and is open until April 24.

Hutchings' current body of work focuses on adventure, imagination and escapism.

Hutchings, who has been a full-time artist for eighteen years, has won awards both locally and nationally and in her works she explores the use of children that are metaphysical.

The other star of the exhibition is Lynch-Memory, whose current body of work is inspired by her love of the rural countryside.
