

UPCOMING EXHIBITION

Traffic Stopper Sale

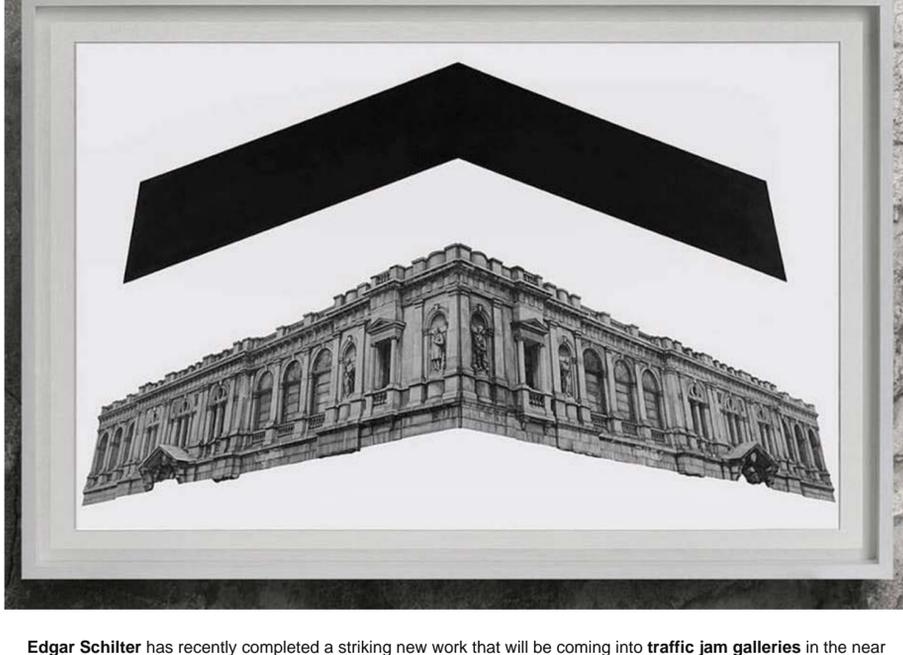

traffic jam galleries is pleased to once again be running our Traffic Stopper Sale. Offering up a huge array of artworks of all prices, sizes and mediums each artist has dictated which of their works are included in the sale.

The sale will be opening on Thursday 30th June and the whole gallery will be re-hung with a huge variety of sale items. The Traffic Stopper Sale is a great way to not only purchase art-works at discounted prices but also see a great example of a mixed exhibition in the space.

NEW WORKS

Edgar Schilter

Edgar Schilter has recently completed a striking new work that will be coming into traffic jam galleries in the near future. The piece is a continuation of his well known Sydney series, and an indication as to what is to come for his upcoming exhibition in the gallery this October.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Will Maguire

tjg is pleased to announce that forged sculpture 'Waymarker' a collaboration made by Will Maguire and English smith Jake James has been awarded second prize at the Hunter Botanical Art Prize.

Will Maguire has also recently installed a sculpture titled 'Arm Horn' in Tarcutta, half way between Sydney and Melbourne the other day. It is a small group of kids doing the air horn pull to the truckies exploring ideas of history, change and progress for a radically changed town that has been by-past off the Hume Hwy and is feeling the effects of significantly less through traffic.

SPECIAL EVENT

Gillie & Marc

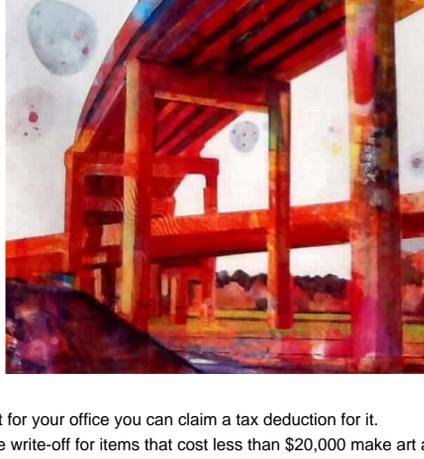

This coming Saturday, 25th June, traffic jam galleries will be hosting a special 2 hour event at the gallery in which Gillie & Marc will be painting live their large fibreglass dog, Big Boy. The idea for this performance came about after Gillie was found on the work on numerous occasions. Through this performance Gillie & Marc will embrace this aspect of the work's life, and transform it into something completely new. The work will then leave the gallery to receive its protective coating and will return shortly after to be united again with recently received addition to the front of the gallery, Paparazzi Dog.

To be part of this exciting event please call or email the gallery to secure a place. This event will take place at traffic jam galleries on Saturday 25th June, 2016, from 2 - 4 pm, and coincide with the launch of the Gillie & Marc Autumn Range.

ART AT WORK

End Of Financial Year Art

It seems too good to be true, but if you're buying art for your office you can claim a tax deduction for it. Last years amendments to tax rules that allow an immediate write-off for items that cost less than $20,000 make art an increasingly attractive purchase for a business. So if you've had your eye on a fabulous piece of art for your office, now is the time to consider making your purchase.

Please do not hesitate to contact traffic jam galleries for further information.
